all true grace is summed up in charity but the greatest of these is charity 1 corinthians 13 13 in these words we observe that something is spoken of as of special importance and as peculiarly essential in christians which the apostle calls charity and this charity we find is abundantly insisted on in the new testament by christ and his apostles more insisted on indeed than any other virtue but then the word charity as used in the new testament is of much more extensive signification than as it is used generally in common discourse what persons very often mean by charity in their ordinary conversation is a disposition to hope and think the best of others and to put a good construction on their words and behavior sometimes the word is used for a disposition to give to the poor but these things are only certain particular branches or fruits of that great virtue of charity which is so much insisted on throughout the new testament the word properly signifies love or that disposition or affection whereby one is dear to another and the original agape which is here translated charity might better have been rendered love for that is the proper english of it so that by charity in the new testament is meant the very same thing as christian love though it be more frequently used for love to men yet sometimes it is used to signify not only love to men but love to god in this collection of sermons on 1 corinthians 13 jonathan edwards shows that christians are called to exemplify the great virtue of charity through their thoughts and actions edwards shows the nature and virtue of love as the distinguishing mark of a true christianlove which manifests itself in preferring others before self
